PASTORAL NOTES

As we prepare for the second visit of a Pope to Britain shortly, we can recall that the one considered our special 'apostle' was also a Pope, St Gregory, whose feast we keep this Friday 3rd September. He was Pope from 590-604 AD, came from an old Roman family and was in his 30s Prefect of Rome, giving it all up to become a monk. His monastic community in Rome thrived and the Pope did not forget Gregory, eventually making him a deacon and his ambassador to Constantinople (modern Istanbul). When he finished his duties he was allowed to return to his monastery, but when the Pope died, the people pleaded for him to be their bishop. So he became Pope and sent missionaries to Britain, a group of 40 monks! It is famously attributed to Gregory that he thought the people should not be called 'Angles' but 'Angels'. The missionaries he sent, monks led by the future St Augustine of Canterbury, were full of trepidation and turned back, but Gregory managed to give them courage to continue! Gregory wrote a book for bishops, which has been read ever since. It is a balanced guide for those called to be 'shepherds' of the flock, while lamenting that he is distracted by having so many calls on his time to do with mundane administration. Now Popes – and clergy in general – have many helpers to deal with day to day administration.

GENERAL NOTICES

Children's Liturgy: The rules for Safeguarding within the Catholic Church have changed. To ensure we are taking all steps to keep your children safe, we need to create a register of all children who come to Children's Liturgy. A registration form for each child will be available on 5th and 12th September. To maintain the appropriate ratio of adults to children we need more adults to volunteer to supervise the children. Please consider whether you can help us. Also, each child under five years old MUST be accompanied by an adult.

The Kettering and Corby Jumbulance pilgrimage to Lourdes will be returning on Saturday. Our prayers are with Father Andy, their Chaplain, and all the pilgrims.

Jumbulance Grand Draw tickets available at the back of all churches, please support this local charity taking sick pilgrims to Lourdes etc. Draw takes place on 26th September 2010. Counterfoils and money can be returned, in an envelope marked 'Jumbulance Raffle', please via the Sunday Collections plates.
