PASTORAL NOTES

At the display by the Reading-lectern at the left of the altar, you may have noticed various images of saints now being displayed. Over the years various images of saints relating to different parts of the world have been collected. In January we have had an image of Blessed Cyprian Tansi, a Cistercian monk who died in Leicester General Hospital in 1964. He may be considered a 'local' saint, as well as a reminder of his home in Nigeria and many African saints. There are many parishioners from parts of India in the parish. St John Bosco (through the teaching order he founded) is much-loved in India. Around the other image of the suffering Christ you can also see the script of one of the Indian languages. St John Bosco himself was Italian, living in the 19th century. Hopefully these different images can help remind us of the universal Church and to pray for one another in our very richly diverse parish.
